TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,

Annapolis, January 7th, 1874.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of Maryland:

In obedience to the Constitution and laws of the State, I respectfully submit the following report of the financial condition of the Treasury Department, at the close of the fiscal year, ended 30th September, 1873.

RECEIPTS.

The total receipts from all sources during the fiscal year, amounted to $2,432,677.48, which, added to the balance in the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year 1872, viz: $339,171.10, make the total amount in the Treasury during the fiscal year 1873, to be $2,771,848.58 Of this amount, the sum of $301,125 was derived from the issue of so much of the Maryland State Loan, authorized by the Act of 1872, Chapter 366. This issue was made to retire a corresponding amount of the sterling and currency debts of the State, presented at the Treasury for redemption and exchange. The sum of $65,032.50 was realized from the sale of $65,000 of Maryland Defence Loan, issued to reimburse the Treasury for bounties formerly paid in excess of receipts from the bounty funds. This latter sum was paid to the Southern Maryland Railroad Company, in pursuance of the Act of 1868, Chapter 454. This Act authorizes and directs the issue of bonds, for the purpose of raising the means for paying the State's subscription to the capital stock of Railroad Companies, organized in Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's counties, whenever the ordinary resources of the Treasury were not sufficient to meet the expenditure for that purpose. The entire amount due by that Act to Charles county, viz: $175,000, has been paid from the ordinary Treasury receipts, but when the call was made by the County Commissioners of St. Mary's county, for one-half the amount due to that county, and notice was given of a call from the County Commissioners of Calvert county, for a large amount of the sum awarded to that county under said Act, it was found necessary to issue stock of the State, in order to meet the requirements of the Act. Instead of creating a new series of State Debt, as authorized by the Act of 1868, Chapter 454, the Treasury officers, after consultation with the Governor, concluded to issue a portion of the balance of the stock of the Defence Loan, authorized by the Act of 1868, Chap. 235, to reimburse the Treasury, as directed by the last mentioned Act, and thereby obtain the means of complying with the requirements of the Act of January Session, 1868, Chapter 454. The further sum of $100,000, accrued to the credit of the Maryland Agricultural College Fund, from the redemption by the State of the Southern Relief Bonds, which came to maturity during the fiscal year 1873. The deduction of the three several sums above named, amounting in the aggregate to $466,157.50, added to the sum of $152,171.02, transferred from the Sinking Fund in payment for stock redeemed, will show the receipts from ordinary sources of revenue for the fiscal year, to be $1,814,348.96, which is less than the revenue from ordinary sources during the year 1872, by the sum of $62,020 43.

The receipts of revenue have fallen very much below the estimates, from the fact that a number of the Railroad Companies, Coal Companies and National Banks, are still resisting the payment of the taxes imposed by law, and consequently the large amounts due from these corporations is still unpaid. A large item of revenue has also been lost to the Treasury, by the failure of the last Legislature to enact a suitable law, imposing a license upon sample traders. The revenue from this source in 1871, amounted to $44,253, but the law imposing the license being defective, became inoperative, and the bill framed to cover the defect, failing to be passed, that item of revenue has been lost to the State for the past two years. I have never been able to obtain a trial in any of the cases against the Railroad Companies claiming exemption from taxation, involving the validity of the law taxing their gross receipts.

The several sources from which the revenue received by the Treasurer has been derived, are fully detailed in statement "A," appended to this Report.

DISBURSEMENTS.

The total disbursements during the fiscal year, amounted to $2,287,038.36, being less than the total expenditures for the year 1872, by the sum of $63,615.70. Of these disbursements, the sum of $453,296.02 was expended in the redemption of the debt of the State, and $152,500 were devoted to the payment of the State's subscription to the stock of Railroad Companies in Charles and St. Mary's counties, under the Act of 1868, Chapter 454, leaving the amount expended for ordinary purposes, to be $1,681,242.34. The different items of expenditure, and the Acts authorizing the same, are stated fully in statement "B." The balance in the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year 1873, was $484,810.22. There is also the sum of $14,220.08 to the credit of the "School Fund," and the sum of $66,579.28, belonging to the "Sinking Fund," which is applicable only to the redemption of the Public Debt of the State.

ESTIMATES.

The probable receipts into the Treasury, during the current fiscal year, calculated under existing laws, if made effective, are estimated in statement "C," at $2,005,489.28, which, if realized and added to $484,810.22, the balance in the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year, will make the total amount in the Treasury, during the fiscal year 1874, to be $2,490,299.50. The estimate of expenditures for the same period, based upon existing laws, making appropriations and upon the presumption that wise, economical and prudent legislation only, will be enacted at the coming session, are put down in statement "D" at $1,916,527.25. These estimates show the probable balance in the Treasury at the end of the current fiscal year to be $573,772.25.

FREE SCHOOL FUND.

Statement "E" exhibits the condition of the Free School Fund at the close of the fiscal year. The receipts on account of the Free School Fund during the fiscal year, have been $75,572.84, which added to the balance remaining to the credit of the said fund at the close of the fiscal year 1872, make an aggregate of $83,196.81. The disbursements during the same period, amounted to the sum of $68,976.73, leaving a balance to the credit of the Free School Fund as of 30th September, 1873, of $14,220.08.

The Sinking Fund now amounts to $66,579.28 which is in cash, applicable to the redemption of the Public Debt. Statement "F" shows the various securities in which the different "Free School Funds" are invested, amounting in the aggregate, to the sum of $314,010.16, including $10,770.47, the amount of the fund for the indigent blind.

DIVIDENDS.

Statement "G" shows the receipts during the fiscal year, from dividends on Bank and Railroad Stocks, and interest on the bonds of the Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad Company, amounting in the aggregate, to the sum of $138,955.61.

No dividend has been received during the fiscal year, ended September 30th, 1873, from the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company, nor from the Bohemia Bridge Company.

OYSTER FUND.

The receipts on account of the "Oyster Fund," during the fiscal year, were larger than ever before, amounting to the sum of $65,490.55, as shown by statement "H." The expenditures as detailed in same statement, amounted during the fiscal year, to the sum of $24,770.75, leaving the net amount accrued to the "Oyster Fund" for the fiscal year, to be $40,719.80. The whole amount to the credit of the "Oyster Fund" on 30th September, 1873, was $272,014.14.

THE STATE'S INVESTMENTS.

Statement "J" gives in detail, the productive and unproductive stocks in which the money of the State has been from time to time invested. Those designated as productive, amount to $4,455,464.18. The investments of the State which are now unproductive, amount to $21,608,094.51. There is also a large amount due from Collectors, Sheriffs and various Corporations, which, when collected, will, under existing laws, be available to the ordinary requirements of the Treasury, and the reduction of the Public Debt. The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, of whose stock so large a share of the unproductive investments of the State consist, is gradually paying off the accrued interest on the preferred bonds, and makes an exhibit which promises at not a very distant period of time, to return something to the State for her large outlay. The following statement of the affairs of the Company for eighteen months, ending 30th November, 1873, taken from the quarterly Report of the President and Directors, made to the meeting of the Stockholders, gives an encouraging view of the operations of the Company, notwithstanding the heavy expenditures during the present year, from breaks and floods :

It seems to be generally conceded that the affairs of the Company are ably and judiciously managed by the present administration.

STATE DEBT.

Statement "J" shows the total amount of the Public Debt of the State, at the close of the fiscal year, to amount to the sum of $10,741,215.60. The debt has been increased during the fiscal year by the sum of $65,000.00, Defence Loan, issued under Act of 1868, Chapter 235, to reimburse the Treasury to that extent—for advances from the general revenue accruing from taxes and other sources, appropriated from time to time toward the payment of bounties—in order to raise the funds necessary to meet the demands of the County Commissioners of St. Mary's county, for one-half of the State's subscription to the stock of the Southern Maryland Railroad Company, made in pursuance of their recommendation, as provided by the Act of Assembly of 1868, Chapter 454.

The gross reduction of the Public Debt during the fiscal year, by redemption and exchange, was \$612,351 76, and the increase \$65,000, leaving the net reduction during the year \$170,463 15, the balance being exchanged under the Act of 1872, Chapter 366. A nominal loss has accrued to the Treasury of \$31,417, in the amount of Sterling Bonds redeemed, said sterling debt being rated, in the calculation of the Public Debt, at \$4.44 $\frac{1}{2}$ per £ sterling; whereas, under the Code and the Act of 1872, Chapter 366, it is to be redeemed or exchanged at the rate of \$4.84 per £ sterling. The sterling debt has been reduced during the fiscal year \$352,999.99, leaving the amount still outstanding, and for which interest has to be provided in London, \$5,522,555.55.

A similar loss accrues to the State semi-annually, in the remittance of gold, to pay the interest on the sterling debt, in London. This item of loss and embarrassment to the Treasury, will continue so long as the currency of our own country is at a discount, as compared with that of other nations of the world.

STATE LEVY.

Statement "K" shows the State Levy for all purposes, for the year 1873, to be $721,994.17, which is a small advance on the amount of levy for the preceding year.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TAX.

Statement "L" shows the levy, receipts and disbursements on account of the Public School Tax, authorized by the Acts of 1865, Chap. 160, 1868, Chap. 407, 1870, Chap. 311, and 1872, Chap. 377. The receipts for the year ending 30th September 1873, on this account, were $454,130, being less than those of the fiscal year 1872, by the sum of $5,515.04, and greater than those of 1871, by the sum of $44,064.36. The sum of $52,000 is also expended under the laws of 1872, for the Colored Schools and Colored Normal School, to meet which, there is no special tax provided, and which sums are therefore a drain to that extent, on the ordinary resources of the Treasury. The schools throughout the State appear to be in a prosperous condition, and if we can continue to manage them as heretofore, without interference, will no doubt attain to greater usefulness, and grow into general favor.

BOUNTIES.

Statement "M" exhibits the amounts paid for State Bounties, from 1864 to the end of the fiscal year 1873, and the sources from which the moneys were derived to make said payments. There is still due to the Treasury proper, for advances made in former years for the payment of bounties, the sum of $191,483.20.

PENSIONS.

The amount expended under this head, during the fiscal year, was $49,200, being less than the amount expended during the fiscal year 1872, by the sum of $7,923.20.

The accompanying tables, from 1 to 13, inclusive, show in detail the various receipts into the Treasury, from all sources during the fiscal year. The receipts from Clerks of Courts, contained in Table No. 1, amounted to $478,590.98, exceeding the amounts received from similar sources, in 1872, by the sum of $3,046.78, and being less than those of 1871, by the sum of $6,276.60. This diminution since 1871, has occurred, notwithstanding the increase of revenue from licenses generally, and is owing entirely to the failure of the law imposing a license tax on sample traders. The amount received from this source, in 1871, was $44,253.00. The Act, under which this sum was received in 1871, was rendered ineffective by being made to discriminate in the matter of licenses, against residents of other States of the United States—the Constitution of the United States declaring that “the citizens of each State shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.”

This discrimination was entirely unnecessary, and an amended Act was presented to the last Legislature, but for some reason failed to become a law. The failure to pass such a law, is in effect a direct discrimination against such of our merchants as keep their stocks of goods within the State and liable to taxation. I can see no reason why a trader who sells for profit by sample, but takes care that his stock of goods shall be kept beyond the taxing power of the State, shall be able to sell without license, when a license tax is required, and penalties are imposed upon the failure to pay it, upon all traders bona fide paying taxes on their stocks of goods to the city or county in which they are located, and also to the State, for an equal privilege. In other States, sample merchants, keeping their stocks of goods outside of the State, are required to pay a heavier license tax than those whose stocks of goods are subject to State and city or county taxation, and I can see no possible reason why such should not be the case in this State. I therefore recommend that a license tax be provided by law for all merchants selling by samples, and that a provision be incorporated into the License Laws, requiring all merchants obtaining the ordinary traders' license to declare upon oath, that the stock of goods from which they expect to sell is located within the city or county in which the application for license is made. When the stock of goods is not located within the State, I recommend that a license to sell by sample, in the city of Baltimore and the several counties of the State, be granted by the several Clerks, on the payment of one hundred dollars for one year, on blanks to be furnished by the Comptroller as other license blanks are furnished.

The receipts from Registers of Wills during the fiscal year, as shown by Table No. 2, foot up the sum of $166,147.49, being an increase of $15,890 75 over those for the year 1872.

With few exceptions, the Clerks and Registers have rendered their accounts and made their payments with punctuality, according to law.

Table No. 3, shows the amount paid into the Treasury for direct, bounty, public school, southern relief, deaf and dumb and hospital loan taxes for the fiscal year, to be $715,664.81, exhibiting a diminution from the receipts of 1872, from same taxes, of $23,997.01. This is owing to the repeal of the direct tax, which has, of course, sensibly affected the collections of the fiscal year, and will affect those of several years to come. A large proportion of the collectors have made satisfactory payments and returns, evincing an earnest effort to comply with their duties. A few of them, however, have almost entirely failed to pay, according to law, and suits have been ordered on their bonds.

Table No. 4, exhibits the receipts into the Treasury, from licenses to auctioneers in the city of Baltimore, amounting to $7,150. By the Act of 1872, Chap. 249, the auction duties are made payable to the Comptroller of Baltimore City, and only the excess over twenty thousand dollars is payable into the State Treasury. No receipts from auction duties have accrued to the Treasury of the State, since this Act went into effect.

Table No. 5, exhibits the receipts during the fiscal year, from dividends and interest paid by Railroad and Canal Companies, amounting to $265,284 48. The Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company, has paid no dividends into the Treasury during the fiscal year. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, has paid nothing during the fiscal year on account of receipts from passengers on their Washington Branch Road, as stipulated in their charter. As the State is very largely interested as a stockholder in that branch road, and as a rival branch road has been chartered by the State, without any stipulation in its charter for payment of any portion of its receipts from passengers, it is submitted that the State's interest, as a stockholder, as well as common justice, would indicate the propriety of releasing the Company from any farther payment under that stipulation, so soon as the arrears now due are settled, and that both roads should be taxed alike on their gross receipts.

The Susquehanna and Tide Water Canal Companies are in arrear for the interest due 1st January, 1874, having paid the interest due July 1st, 1873, since the close of the fiscal year.

Table No. 6, shows the amount of receipts during the fiscal year, from tax on the State stock. No payment of the State tax on the stock of the city of Baltimore, due under Section 100, of Article 81 of the Code of Public General Laws, for the year 1873, appears in this table, not having been made until after the close of the fiscal year.

INCORPORATED INSTITUTIONS.

Table No. 7 exhibits, in detail, the amounts received from State tax on the capital stock of Incorporated Institutions. The total amount thus received, is $77,868.47, being larger than receipts of 1872, by the sum of $24,224.83, and greater than those of 1871, by the sum of $24,765.98, notwithstanding that in the receipts of the latter year, the State tax on the capital stock of all the actively engaged Coal Companies, was included in the amount.

The Act of 1872, Chapter 274, having prescribed that Coal Mining Companies, bona fide, working their mines, should pay a tax in the nature of a license tax, on the coal produced, before removal from the mines for sale, of course, no receipts from active Coal Companies are included in the receipts of the State tax on incorporated institutions for the last fiscal year, nor in those of 1872. The large increase in the receipts from these institutions, evince the wisdom of the Legislature in providing that the travel expenses of the Comptroller, when necessarily engaged in personal examinations into the condition of these institutions, should be paid out of the Contingent Fund. The provisions in the Acts of 1872, making appropriations for the support of the State Government, enabling these expenses to be paid, have rendered it possible to the Comptroller to obtain information which will contribute largely to a satisfactory adjustment of the taxes due from these bodies. A large amount is due from the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for taxes upon coal received by them from the various active coal producing Company, amounting, on the 30th September 1873, to the sum of $72,767.06.

The Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, having failed to pay over to the Treasurer of the State, the amount of coal tax received from the Coal Mining Companies for the quarter ending 30th June, 1872, suit was brought against that Company, in the Circuit Court for Allegany county, and judgment being rendered against the State in that Court, an appeal was taken to the Court of Appeals, and the case has been argued, and the decision of that Court, in regard to the law of 1872, is expected to be published in time, to enable the Legislature to act advisedly in regard to the said tax law. I have every reason to believe, that no tax ever imposed by law, have met a more hearty approval by the people, than the tax on coal, and on the gross receipts of Railroad Companies. If there be any defects in the present law, prescribing the tax on coal produced, so as to render it ineffective, it is hoped that the same will be remedied by the action of your Honorable Bodies at the present Session. The immense amounts paid by the people of the State, to works of internal improvement, to render available the coal property, justify the imperative demand, that some contribution shall be made by that now well developed and aggrandized interest, towards the support of the State Treasury.

STATE TOBACCO INSPECTIONS.

Table No. 8, exhibits the receipts and disbursements on account of State Tobacco Inspections, for the fiscal year ended 30th September, 1873.

The gross receipts at the several warehouses for the fiscal year, were $123,423.71, an increase over those of the fiscal year 1872, of $18,519.95. The disbursements during the same period, exclusive of the salaries of Inspectors and Supervisor, were $114,321.14, leaving the balance of $9,107.57, which, added to the amount due from tobacco inspections, 30th September, 1872, and paid during the fiscal year 1873, viz: $4,448.76, makes the total net receipts $13,556.33. The salaries of the Inspectors and Supervisor for the year, amount to $15,000.

Table No. 9, exhibits receipts from various officers amounting in the aggregate, to the sum of $22,467.19. Of this sum, $8,777.34 was from the State Live Stock Scales. A considerable sum is still due from Charles E. Maguire, late weigher of live stock, for which the State's Attorney of Baltimore City has been requested to bring suit, the exact amount of which has not been ascertained, no return having been made by Mr. Maguire for part of the time he was in office. The present weigher of live stock has reported very large expenditures in paving and fixing the cattle pens and yards. If these improvements are completed, the revenue from this source will probably go considerably beyond the estimates made in statement "C."

The receipts from the Land Office show a steady increase, and the importance of that position, under the management of the present accomplished Commissioner, is apparent to all having business with the office.

Table No. 10, shows the amount of interest paid into the Treasury by Collectors and Sheriffs, during the fiscal year, to be in the aggregate, $7,644.39.

Table No. 11, shows the receipts in the Treasury during the fiscal year, from taxes on protests, to be $4,773.50.

Table No. 12, shows the aggregate receipts from Sheriffs for fines and forfeitures, interest and excess of fees, to be $12,037.87.

FOREIGN INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The revenue derived from licenses to Foreign Insurance Companies during the fiscal year, is exhibited in detail, in Table No. 13, and aggregates the handsome sum of $72,034.35. This amount exceeds the receipts from the same source, for the fiscal year, 1872, by the sum of $17,970.89, and exceeds the amount received in 1871, by the sum of $38,588.67, showing an increase of annual revenue, since the establishment of the Insurance Bureau, in this office, of one hundred and fifteen per cent., after payment of the expenses of the Bureau. I herewith transmit to your Honorable Bodies, a copy of the second annual report of the Insurance Commissioner, exhibiting a carefully prepared statement, in detail, of the affairs of every Insurance Company, foreign and domestic, doing business in this State. This report contains a large amount of statistical information, which will be highly useful, to those who are interested in the relative financial strength and reliability of the different Companies.

Table No. 14, shows the amount of taxes for the year 1873, due from Collectors of State taxes, in the several counties and city of Baltimore, at the end of the fiscal year, to be $442,959.96.

Table No. 15, exhibits a list of balances due the State, from Collectors for various years, ranging from 1843 to 1872 inclusive, amounting to $483,668.99. The old claims mentioned in this table are in the hands of the different State's Attorneys, for collection, and quite a number have been closed during the last fiscal year. In order to facilitate the settlement of some of these claims, it is of importance that the Comptroller shall be able to go himself or send an agent to the different counties, to confer with the State's Attorneys, in regard to the best mode of procedure, to procure the payment of the amounts due.

Table No. 16, shows a list of balances due from various Sheriffs, for a long series of years, amounting to $26,241.14, exclusive of interest. A large number of similar claims have been settled during the fiscal year.

Table No. 17, shows the balances due from Clerks of Courts, Registers of Wills and certain other officers, as of the end of the fiscal year, a number of which have since been settled. A number of these old balances have been in the hands of the State's Attorneys for collection, for many years, but the securities on the bonds of the officers being insolvent, as well as the officers themselves, no results are expected from them to the Treasury. This table also shows the amount estimated to be due from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, under their contract to pay one fifth of the gross receipts from passengers on the Washington Branch Road, amounting to $729,154.

NATIONAL BANKS.

Table No. 18, shows the amount due on the shares of capital stock of various National Banks for the years 1872 and 1873, amounting to $55,867.63.

The large amount of arrears due from taxes on the shares of capital stock of various National Banks from 1864 to 1871, inclusive, appears, in detail, in Table No. 19, footing up the aggregate of $132,530.31, without interest. These two tables show the whole amount due from taxes on shares of National Banks, exclusive of interest, to be $188,397 94. The banks named in these tables have been regularly assessed, and have paid their city and county taxes, so far as this department is informed, but the law of Maryland, directing the payment of the taxes on the shares of the capital stock of banks, by the banks themselves, instead of by the individual stockholders, has been found defective to enforce said payment by the National Banks. An Act was passed at the last Session of the General Assembly to provide for this deficiency in future, but that Act, levying the State tax at 19 cents, was rendered inoperative by the subsequent action of the Legislature in repealing the direct tax, whereby a different rate of taxation was provided for other property. This being the case, and the stockholders of the said National Banks not being assessed with the shares of stock owned by them for the different years, it has been found impossible to collect the arrears due on the shares of said banks. The law, it is true, provides for the assessment of shares of stock, as well as any other property which has been found to have been omitted in former assessments, for the various years during which said omission has occurred, but no special provisions of law being made to compel such assessment, it has not been done, and it remains for the General Assembly to provide by law for making the same, and enforcing the payment, by the various stockholders, of the State taxes due on their shares of stock so omitted as aforesaid. As the holders of stock in National Banks have extraordinary privileges, rendering that species of property superior to all other in point of productiveness, it is submitted, that justice to the holders of other property, paying State taxes, would require that due diligence be used to compel the payment of the State taxes due from this source. I therefore recommend the passage of a law directing the assessment to the various holders of the shares of capital stock of the several banks, named in Tables 18 and 19, for the different years for which the same may be due, and giving power to the Collectors of State taxes in the city or county, where said shares are assessable respectively, to enforce the payment of the same, by process of attachment. The other National Banks, not mentioned in Tables 18 and 19, have paid the State taxes for their several shareholders, without requiring suit to be brought against them.

Table No. 20, shows a large amount of arrears of taxes due from various State corporations, amounting to $67,429.08. Some of these are solvent and can be collected by suit under the powers now given by law for that purpose. A number of similar claims have been collected during the fiscal year.

TAXES ON GROSS RECEIPTS OF RAILROAD COMPANIES.

Under the Act of 1872, Chapter 234, levying a tax of one-half of one per cent. on the gross receipts of all Railroad Companies in this State, only one year's taxes have as yet become due. The several Companies have made the return of their gross receipts as required by law, except the Annapolis and Elkridge Railroad Company, which has refused to do so, and suit has been ordered against the President of that Company for the penalty prescribed in the Act, for failure to make said return. A number of the Railroad Companies incorporated at a later period, have paid their taxes according to law, but others, claiming to be exempt from every species of taxation, have failed or refused to pay the taxes accrued under this Act. Not wishing to bring unnecessary suits, I have ordered suits to be brought on the accounts of taxes due from the principal Companies claiming this exemption, but have not, as yet, been able to get one of the cases brought to trial. Suits have been ordered against the Northern Central Railway Company, the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company, and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. I do not anticipate trouble in collecting the taxes from the other roads, if the Courts enforce the payment of the taxes on the part of those against whom suits have been brought. The people of the State demand that these rich and powerful corporations shall be taxed on their business as other business interests are taxed, and that they be forced to contribute to the support of the State Government, from which they claim and enjoy protection, and by which they have been created. The charters of some of these Companies contained provisions that their capital stock should be exempt from taxation, which provisions have all been repealed by the Act of 1870, Chapter 362. Whether, under the decisions which have been made upon this subject, it is in the power of the Legislature to repeal and annul these provisions of exemption in regard to stockholders of corporations, as in the case of other individuals, or not, I cannot conceive how said corporations themselves can claim to be entirely exempt from taxation on the business performed by them for profit. The fact that a merchant actually pays the State tax on his stock of goods, does not exempt him from the license tax on the business he transacts in buying and selling for profit. Although a lawyer may own large property, and pay taxes on all of it, yet it is not claimed that he could successfully resist a license tax on his business, if the State chose to enact a law to impose such a tax. If, therefore, we are to assume for argument sake, that the stockholders of these corporations cannot be legally taxed on their shares of stock, it does not seem to me to preclude the State from insisting that the corporation shall pay some tax on the business it does in the State, for profit. If the stockholders cannot be taxed because their shares are exempt under an irrepealable charter, and the property of the Company is exempt because it is covered by the stock, as the Court of Appeals appears to have already decided, (see 6 Gill, 295, 298,) and the business of the Company cannot be taxed for both reasons, then has the State indeed parted with her sovereignty to a large extent, and as these powerful corporations purchase new property, and draw the same within the protection of their ægis, the area of taxation will be gradually diminished, until the remaining property-holders, who are not thus favored, will find it hard to sustain the State Government for the benefit of the whole. I cannot think the view held by these corporations is tenable. If the fact of payment of the tax on his stock of goods will not protect the merchant from taxation on his business, of which that same property is the subject matter, how could exemption by law of his stock from taxation (were such the case,) negative the State's power to impose on him a license tax in the same manner. In the State of Pennsylvania, for instance, and perhaps in other States, the Railroad Companies have been required to pay a State tax on their capital stock, a State tax on their gross receipts, and a State tax on the tonnage transported over them, all at the same time, and the Supreme Court of the United States has lately decided, in the case of one of these roads which had already paid the two other taxes, that the tax on its gross receipts was a proper and valid tax. If it is competent for the State to tax its capital stock, and the gross receipts also, at the same time, it seems clear to me that the exemption of the capital stock does not by any means work an exemption from taxation on its gross receipts, or any other license tax.

But the question arises, has one Legislature under the Bill of Rights, of the State of Maryland, the power to abridge the taxing power of a subsequent Legislature, unless by contract for valuable consideration, or has the General Assembly the power at all to discriminate as to which of the citizens of the State shall pay taxes on their property, and which shall not? The Legislature may lay taxes in various modes, but must it not tax alike all the possessors of the same species of taxable property, or the prosecutors of the same sort of taxable business? Can it exempt A's property, and thereby impose a double share upon that of B, or can it tax A with a license to transact his business or profession, and allow B to prosecute the same business or profession, without a license? If it can, and every such exemption becomes a contract and irrepealable, how unenviable will the position of the holder of unproductive property be in this State before many years? Investments in real estate will, indeed, be rare, if it is known to be the settled policy of the State, that this species of property shall find no relief, while the best dividend paying stocks are to be forever free from taxation. If it be true that the productiveness of property is the proper test or its capacity to bear taxation, certainly the agricultural interests, appeal with unimpeachable claim of justice, to the Supreme Power of the State for all the relief that can under the circumstances, be granted. Except in close proximity to large towns or cities, it is questionable if an average income of three per cent. can be realized by farmers, on the present valuation of their lands. In immediate proximity to large towns and cities, the production of fruits and vegetables is sometimes remunerative, and real estates thus employed, may be made to yield a profit, but in other portions of the State where great staples alone can be cultivated, as long as the present policy of the United States Government continues, nothing but the most pressing foreign demand is likely to avail, to give the farmer a show of profit. The price of grain, cotton, tobacco and other great staples is regulated by the foreign demand, and this of course upon a specie basis; hence the farmer must expect to sell on this basis, whether his sales be made for consumption in this country or elsewhere. At the same time, that he can only obtain a specie price, he is compelled however, to receive payment in the same inflated currency, the depreciation of which, adds enormously to the cost of everything he has to buy. In addition to this, in making purchases, he comes in contact with the increased prices, consequent on protective tariffs and onerous excises. The owners of all other unproductive property are in like case with the farmer, and it seems to me to be the province of the State Government to ease their burdens as far as may be, by so equalizing the pressure, that it may bear alike on all investments in the State in proportion to their intrinsic value and productiveness. Hence it is incumbent on the General Assembly to correct the defects in existing laws, and so perfect the revenue system that no profitable investment or business shall escape its proper share of taxation.

TAX ON EXPRESS AND TELEGRAPH COMPANIES.

The Constitution of the State, (Art. 3, Section 58,) makes it the duty of the Legislature "to provide by law for State and Municipal taxation, upon the revenues accruing from business done in this State by all foreign corporations."

In obedience to this injunction, the General Assembly, at the last Session, passed an Act to authorize the issuing of licenses to Telegraph Companies, and Express and Transportation Companies, not organized under the laws of this State, to transact business therein. Attempts have been made by some of the Telegraph Companies, to elude the power of the law, by claiming to transform themselves for the time being, into Home Companies, so that the Act would be inapplicable to them. Accordingly, corporations were ingeniously gotten up, consisting in the main, of the officers of the foreign corporation, with the addition, perhaps, of some other individual as a corporator, to terminate in two years, to which the same persons, as officers of the foreign corporation, execute a paper lease of the lines and effects of the corporation within this State. They have thus claimed to avoid the applicability of the Act, although the officers and employees of such corporations have personally admitted to me, oftentimes, upon inquiry, that they paid all the receipts directly to the proper officer of the foreign corporation, resident beyond the limits of the State. To obviate such an attempt hereafter, I recommend that the Act be so amended as to apply to the business of all such corporations alike, foreign or domestic, and to all firms and partnerships prosecuting said business for profit in this State.

REDEMPTION OF STATE STOCK.

Notwithstanding the financial difficulties which have existed in the country, the Treasury Officers have found it possible to obtain only a very limited amount of the State bonds at par. Having called in all the currency debt that had matured, except the Southern Relief Bonds, which matured in 1873, and being unable to procure at par any considerable amount of the unmatured currency debt, in which to invest the money in the Treasury to the credit of the sinking fund, the Treasury officers concluded to call in the whole amount of said Southern Relief Bonds, and cancel the same. This being done, it became the duty of the Comptroller, under the Act of 1864, Chapter 90, to reinvest the amount of said bonds, the same being a portion of the fund belonging to the Agricultural College, "in stocks of the United States or of this State, or in some other safe stocks, yielding not less than five per centum per annum on the par value of said stocks." Accordingly the same was invested in bonds of the State, as far as such bonds were obtainable at par, and the balance was invested in stock of the city of Baltimore. Thirty bonds of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum Loan, of this State, of five hundred dollars each, were purchased for this purpose, amounting to \$15,000.00, and the balance invested in stock of the city of Baltimore, bearing interest at six per cent. per annum, and purchased at 95 $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent., amounting to \$88,800.00. The said State bonds and certificate of stock of the city of Baltimore are now held by the Treasurer for the benefit of the Maryland Agricultural College. By this reinvestment, an increase of the fund has been effected to the amount of \$3,800.00.

MARYLAND PENITENTIARY.

For the first time since its foundation, as is believed, the Maryland Penitentiary has only drawn a very small portion of the appropriation made for its benefit for the last year, and has since paid into the Treasury the surplus of its receipts, over expenditures, amounting to $5,638.42. This is a most satisfactory result, and reflects especial credit on the officers conducting the business of that institution.

NEW ASSESSMENT.

The last assessment of property throughout the State, is complained of as imperfect, having been made at a period so near the close of the civil war, that a normal condition of values could hardly be said to exist at that time. I suggest that the General Assembly take into consideration the propriety of a new assessment, with a view to the equalization of the basis of taxation, and making it conform more perfectly to existing valuations.

Although very large amounts are due the State from National Banks, Railroad Companies, and from taxes on coal mining corporations, as well as from collectors and other officers, the available resources of the Treasury are such as to require the strictest economy on the part of the General Assembly. I therefore bespeak from your Honorable Bodies a rigid scrutiny of all questionable claims on the State Treasury, and the utmost care to guard against unnecessary appropriations.

Provision ought to be made by law for conducting the Department, in case of illness or necessary absence of the Comptroller from Annapolis, by authorizing him in such case, to appoint in writing his Chief Clerk, to discharge the duties of Comptroller pro tem., and for all the acts of said deputy, while so acting, the bond of the Comptroller should be answerable in the same manner and extent as for his personal acts. As the office is at present organized, a severe illness of the incumbent would entirely arrest the regular business of the Department. A similar recommendation was made many years ago by the present Governor of the State, when Comptroller, and has probably been made since, but no law has yet been enacted to provide for such emergency.

This subject, in view of the increased business of the Department, and the great inconvenience to the public which might occur, for want of such a provision, ought not to be deferred by your Honorable Bodies.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVIN WOOLFORD,

Comptroller of the Treasury.
